Mr. Robert Amory
Deputy Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Amory:

This is an only slightly edited version* of your talk. I thought it best to send it to you pretty nearly intact. The introductory remarks are out and I have cleared up a few sentences; otherwise it is substantially as you gave it. It is so good I hope you will find yourself free to let us use it. But, of course, that is up to you. Since it is to appear in print more as an article than as a direct report from the meeting I would like to see some of the phraseology made just a little more "literary" or at least a little less spoken-sounding. If you give it clearance maybe you would be the best person to do this. After all, it's yours!

Sincerely,

Karl Schriftgiesser
